6.1 Sgt. Tyson Nelson, Hampton RCMP

Sgt. Nelson provided Council with an update on May files. He noted that yesterday two officers participated in the Hampton Elementary School Grade 5 Bike Rodeo. He noted that there have been several scams occurring in the area including the Grandparent Call Scam, Facebook Scam selling fake merchandise, Romance Scam and a New Bell Aliant Scam. He noted that they have been completing regular completing traffic stops. He also noted that he issued 3 warnings for motorcycle noise.

6.2 Ben Whalen – Kennebecasis Watershed Restoration Committee

Ben Whalen, Project Manager for the Kennebecasis Watershed Restoration Committee provided Council with an educational presentation on what their committee is and the work that they do. The Kennebecasis Watershed Restoration Committee is a non-profit group that has been working since 1994 towards the restoration and conservation of the Kennebecasis River and its tributaries. Their goals are to undertake strategic habitat restoration, educational and advisory initiatives, to promote public awareness and participation in the restoration of the Kennebecasis River Watershed.

They have planted more than 350,000 trees, installed more than 60 km of riparian fencing, installed over 400 in-stream habitat structures, stabilized over 6500 m of eroding stream banks and enhanced over 90 fords or access points.

As far as monitoring, they have assessed more than 300km of stream habitat and more than 400 culverts. They regularly monitor water quality on more than 60 established sites and conduct biological sampling for fish, benthic, invasive species, and cyanobacteria. They have many educational and outreach programs, including the Hampton rain garden. He noted that they are doing a rain garden/monarch butterfly event on Monday at the garden.

He noted that the committee's areas of rising concerns are cyanobacteria, Eurasian water milfoil, emerald ash borer and small mouth bass. He asked Council to get involved by letting them know if they have a project idea.

6.3 Laura Myers – National Climate League

Laura Myers provided an overview of the National Climate League to Council. She noted that the National Climate League is a climate and sustainability indicators project drive by participatory data collection. It allows Canadian municipalities to see how they compare to other similar sized municipalities across the country. It is a project of the Climate Reality Project Council.

The primary indicators were affordable housing, democratic representation, vehicle sharing, urban green space, landfill waste, EV charging station, sustainable building, public transit, air quality, energy mix, municipal employees, urban agriculture, water consumption, walkability, bikeability, climate migration, and emission targets.

The complementary indicators include climate plan, adaptation plan, carbon budget, climate lens/test, building code, food council, divestment, GHG inventory methodology and GHG inventory frequency.

She noted that the data is collected by volunteers. She would like Hampton to participate in the program. She is willing to be the lead on data collection, with the assistance of town staff..

6.4 David Forgie, New Brunswick Anti-Smart City Alliance (NBASCA)

Mr. Forgie provided information on the projects of the NBASCA. He noted that the alliance is petitioning to reform property tax in New Brunswick and in particular for seniors with fixed incomes. He noted that life essentials like food and medication are not taxed. It is the position of NBASCA that shelter is also an essential of life and that property tax should be reformed. They believe that the loss revenue by cancelling property tax can be made up by increasing income tax proportionately.

He also raised the issue of limits on food source animals with planning provisions. He also provided information on increased information on edible insects. He raised concerns about digital id and the issues this may raise for basic human rights. He was very concerned about the ideas of Smart Cities.

He asked Council to review information on their Save Our Seniors Tax reform and to endorse it. He also asked Council if they would be able to rent the Lighthouse River Centre for their education centre. It is noted that the Lighthouse River Centre is no longer available for meeting rentals. It is now a shared community space that houses the Hampton Community Library.
